"Dessert."

A wonderful attraction—The North Pole.

Watermelons are here, and the population will soon double up.—N. Y. Journal.

Pontaloon will be worn no longer in July than in June—one day longer.—Oil City Derrick.

Mean men are the best at guessing conundrums. This comes from the fact that they hate to give up anything.

To wash a mule safely, do it with a garden hose, and stand on the other side of the fence while you do it.—Puck.

"I'm sitting on the style, Mary," said Mary's father when he refused to buy her a new bonnet.—Boston Folio.

A man who played the violin wretchedly was said to be smart, in that he sawed several chords per day.—Waterloo Observer.

The thief who stole a watch at a public meeting excused himself on the plea that he "was merely taking minutes of the affair."—N. Y. News.

Men are ruined in the West by land, and in the East by petroleum. The modern history of Greece will be interesting to posterity.—Pittsburg Telegraph.

A brass band at Bloomington has played the same tune 376 times in that city in less than a month's time, and yet people wonder at crime.—"Cheek."

An Oil City man has died after eating a pineapple forty-nine years ago when he was a boy.—Oil City Derrick.

President Arthur is said to have sixty pairs of shoes. Gentlemen who would like to be in Mr. Arthur's shoes are doubtless persons of great leisure.—Courier Journal.

The coal man's cart broke down just as he was going to weigh the coal. "You needn't fuss to weigh that coal," said the man who had purchased it. "If it's heavy enough to break down the cart, it weighs more than any ton of coal I ever got before."—I'm satisfied.

Shingles were split by hailstones in Tennessee the other day, and women who are obliged to split kindlings in the morning are thinking seriously of moving to Tennessee, where the elements are more considerate than thoughtless husbands.—Hartford Post.

It is asserted that chopping off a dog's tail will seriously impair his eyesight. Some folks may believe it, but you can't talk that nonsense to a chap who has been sighted in a melon patch by a bob-tailed dog forty rods away.—Free Press.

"Did that lady take umbrage?" said the proprietor of a Harlem store to his clerk, who had just had a wordy dispute with a customer. "Oh, no. She took ten yards of turkey red calico, and wanted buttons to match."—Newark Register.

And now it is claimed that the jew-harp will lay the foundation for a case of consumption. If accordance playing were subject to the same results, life wouldn't be so much of a dreary blank as it is.—Springfield Sunday News.

The average young lady wants at least four feet of seat in a street car for a ride of six blocks, but she will ride half a day Sunday squeezed into a buggy-seat beside her young man and not find the least fault. Why are they so inconsistent?—Free Press.

When the minister is pretty severe upon human shortcomings in the pulpit every man leans back in his pew, smiles, and says to himself, "Now he's giving it to 'em." Satisfying thought, isn't it, that the minister always has reference to somebody else?—Somerville Journal.

In north Brazil there are no professional dressmakers, the finest ladies making their own costumes. When a man buys his wife a two dollar dress he doesn't have to give her ten dollars to get it made. There are some things in north Brazil worthy of imitation in this country.

"So you are going to marry that small, wheezy, consumptive-looking specimen of a man, are you," said one girl to another. "I really don't see what you can see in him to love." "Mary," said her friend, "Mary, your father is a small man, isn't he?" "Yes," was the reply, "but what of that?" "Nothing, except that if he wasn't small it would be doubtful if your mother would be the boss. I'm going to marry that small man because I'm fond of having my own way and won't accept any risks."

Exciting Rumors.—The air was full of rumors last night in regard to a meeting of the Miner's Union held yesterday afternoon. The fact that this special meeting was held seemed enough to start all sorts of stories—some of them so exaggerated as not to be worthy of mention. The impression prevailed that the meeting was called to take steps to close down certain mines in which non-union men are working for less than $4 per day; either this, or to require the men to join the Union and work for Union prices.—Eureka Sentinel 4th.

A Lawyer's Testimony.
During eight years my attacks of dyspepsia were so terrible that I often had to stop business. Parker's Ginger Tonic built me up from almost a skeleton to the perfect health I now enjoy. J. Jerolomon, Lawyer, N. Y. City.

A vigorous growth of hair is promoted and the youthful color restored by applying Parker's Hair Balsam.

THE BATTLE TO-DAY.

Hotly contested political battles will be fought in ten States to-day. The most important contests, however, are in New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Minnesota, Connecticut and Virginia. The canvass in these states has been red-hot for more than a month, and has increased in fury from the beginning to the present time. In Massachusetts it is anything but a battle, and in Virginia the fight is against Mahone. In New York the position of United States Senator is at stake, and consequently the big fight is on the Legislative ticket. But for a genuine rough and tumble fight the canvass in Massachusetts takes the cake. To beat the Republicans the Democrats nominated Butler, and before the canvass had fairly commenced their Republic-Greenback-Democratic candidate began to loom up as a dangerous aspirant for the Presidency, which so frightened the leaders of the party that they "went back on themselves," so to speak, and ever since have been fighting like tigers to compass his defeat. In the meantime old Ben, like the fabled lion, marches through the commonwealth shaking his mane, sounding his stentorian voice, and making the fur fly in all directions. All in all, the fight in Massachusetts is as novel as it is interesting, and while it makes but little difference to the Republican cause how the battle goes, it begins to look as though a Democratic victory in that State would sound the death knell of the National Democratic party.

An Eye to Business.

Not long since, a Miss Nettie C. Bailey, described as a beautiful woman of twenty-one, well educated and having moved in the best society of New York City and New Jersey, became the mistress of a wealthy Englishman engaged in sheep raising in Kansas. In the Indian Territory she got deers to his property, killed him, rifled his trunk of a large sum of money, buried the body and drove off the stock. If she had not been captured, this young lady might have become the wild cowgirl of the Texas prairie, and afforded material for scores of dime novels.

The Commissioner of the Land Office has canceled three land entries in the Susanville district of California, upon the port of a special agent showing fraud in the entries. Special agents are now profiting by the experience gained in the last three months, and the new service is beginning to work more effectively, so that the Commissioner is sanguine of his ability to check operations of the land crooners who have profited greatly through fraudulent timber and homestead entries on the Pacific Slope.

The Plumas Eureka Gold Mining Company of California paid a dividend of 50c per share in London, October 12th, aggregating $20,312, the second dividend of like amount this year. The Sierra Buttes Gold Mining Company also paid a semi-annual dividend in London on the same day, at the rate of 25c per share, or $5,625. This is also a California property.

William F. White, of Santa Cruz, who has been in the California Board of Bank Commissioners for the past four years, has been reappointed for another four years by Governor Stoneman. The salary is $3,000 per year and $500 for traveling expenses.

Idaho mining properties are receiving more attention, and some good discoveries are expected to be made in that Territory before long. Idaho needs to be opened with railroads before it will be able to bring out its mining capacities.

Four Congressmen-elect have already died since their election. They are Updegraff of Ohio, Republican, Herndon of Alabama, Democrat, Poole of North Carolina, and Cutts of Iowa, Republicans.

It is estimated by the Commissioner of Pensions that $40,000,000 will be required for the payment of pensions during the next fiscal year.

"What's the value of your personal property, old man?" asked a tax assessor of a negro. "What yer wantin' know dat fur?" "So we'll know how much to make you pay." "My stuff done paid for, sah!" "Yes, but you'll have to pay taxes on your household goods." "De tax me enough in de dust place, sah. Ain't gwine to pay no mo'!" "If you don't you can't vote at de next election!" "All right. Da don't count my vote now. Go on somewhar an' tax a man fur habin de rheumatiz."—Arkansas Traveller.

MUCH MONEY.

The annual report of the director of the mint shows that gold received, $49,000,000; silver, nearly $39,000,000. The coinage of the year is valued at $66,209,740; total gold coinage, $35,938,327; silver, $28,835,470, of which $2,411,119 were standard dollars. The profits on coinage of the silver dollar was $8,701,331; net silver profits in the last five years, $13,860,310. Silver circulation, the director says, is in excess of the requirements, and expresses the belief that an equal coinage of both gold and silver by all nations is desirable, and suggests that Congress consider the question whether the law directing the monthly coinage of $2,000,000 in silver, should not be modified or repealed. The director recommends that the coinage of gold dollars and three cent nickel pieces be discontinued. The production of gold the current year will be $32,000,000, and silver, $49,000,000. The estimated circulation of coin October 1st, 1893, was $544,512,699 dollars, gold; $235,291,323, silver.

Found at Last.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 5. The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Mary Churchill, daughter of a wealthy St. Louis merchant, has been solved by the complete identification of the missing girl in this city. After a fruitless search of two months all over the land, Dr. Fletcher of the insane hospital, was struck with the resemblance of a description of the missing girl to the appearance of a domestic in the laundry department. She gives no reason for her sudden disappearance. She left to-night with her father to pay a brief visit to her mother; she declares she can make her own living, and informed Dr. Fletcher that she would report for duty Wednesday.

More Trouble in Virginia.

RICHMOND, November 5. This morning a disturbance took place in Fredericksburg, which almost brought about serious trouble. Captain Morris Rowe, a prominent white citizen, while discussing the Danville riot, was overheard by a negro named Street, who denounced his statement about the riot as a "funder"—meaning Soldiers' Quarters Burned.

PRESBURY, A. T., November 5. A fire broke out in the kitchen of the band quarters of Whipple barracks, last night about 11 o'clock, and consumed the row of buildings used for company quarters, and a small house in the rear. The soldiers saved their blankets and personal property. Considerable government goods were destroyed; loss $5,000.

The eyes of the South are on Butler says the National Republican. He is well known in that section and they are not anxious to deliver their 153 votes for him. They may have it to do but it will "go agin the grain," for with all his faults, Benjamin was a patriot when patriots were needed.

The elections were the popular theme in New York churches yesterday. The Republicans closed the campaign Saturday evening with a great meeting in Cooper Union, ex-Governor Cornell presiding and Wm. M. Everts and Chauncey M. Depew the speakers.

The Internal Revenue Department reports that by the consolidation of collecting districts, a saving of $125,000 is secured. The receipts this year are estimated at $120,000,000.

On Tuesday next the Pope will hold a consultation with Mr. Erington, Cardinal Manning and several American bishops on the question of Irish emigration to America.

The question of making a second canal across Suez is occupying the active attention of the Egyptian Government.

The Leading House.

In passing Tom Barnett's leading boot and shoe house, our attention was called to some new and elegant ladies' French and American kid shoes, which he has just received. They are models for neatness and finish, and seem as though they could walk themselves. Mr. Barnett tells you that they are the latest styles from the best factories, and that henceforth he shall be in receipt of these novelties at each mail. We would call our friends' attention to Mr. Barnett's place of business, which has been renovated, and is now under the management of his son Will. Call around and see him.

Ball at Verdi.

Verdi Lodge No. 22, and the Hall Association propose to give a grand ball on Nov. 23d, at their new hall at Verdi. It will be the effort of all to make the affair a success and to give every one the worth of his money.

A Good Field.

J. W. Kinsley, Grand Master Workman of the A. O. U. W., Nevada jurisdiction, has assumed charge of the Ogden Pilot. Mr. Kinsley is a practical printer and an experienced journalist, and will doubtless improve the Pilot.

Recent Tariff Changes.

(S. F. Bulletin.)

It is stated that since the removal of the Internal Revenue tax on matches, the foreign article is beginning to take possession of the market, and that a promising industry is thus threatened. But it is not seen how this can be the fact, since the tariff now in force imposes a duty on "friction or lucifer matches of all descriptions of thirty-five per cent. ad valorem." If no other modification has been made but the removal of the Internal Revenue tax, no change of the conditions has apparently taken place. But the alteration made in the duties on raw wool has brought all wool growers in the country to their feet. It is quite certain that they will make a strong movement in Congress for a restoration of the old tariff at the next session. The question entered by what influences the reduction of the tariff is not known. Australia some time ago sent a Commissioner to this country to agitate the proposition. He tried to argue the people into his way of thinking, after the manner of Cobden. But very little attention was paid to what he said. The public discussion of the subject was then dropped. But Australia, for all that, found a place in the new tariff. In the original enactment there was no mention of the wools of the English Colonies in the South Pacific. In the classification of the new tariff they are specifically set forth, and what is more, reductions made by which they are allowed to compete with our wools. The reductions are very large, as will be seen by the following comparisons:

Wool of first class.		Wool of the second class.
Wool of first class, valued at 32c per lb, 10c per lb, and 11c per cent ad valorem. Wools of the same class exceeding in value 32c per lb, 12c per lb and 10c per cent ad valorem.		Wool of the second class worth 30c per lb or less, 10c per lb. Wools of the same class worth more than 32c, 12c per lb.
Wool of the third class valued at 12c per lb, 3c per lb, or less, 2 1/2% per Wools of the same class worth more than 12c per lb, 6c per lb, 5c per lb.		Wool of the third class worth 12c per lb or less, 2 1/2% per Wools of the same class worth more than 12c per lb, 6c per lb, 5c per lb.

It will be seen that the second, or ad valorem duty, in all cases disappears. The original allegation was that certain sorts of a fine grade which were not produced in this country were needed, but that does not appear to be the basis on which the new tariff is constructed. The ad valorem tax ranged in the old tariff from ten to eleven per cent, and its removal greatly lowers the protection heretofore enjoyed by the wool growers. Examining all the changes that have been made in the wool duties, there is at every turn the traces of a design to protect certain interests at the expense of the others. The reductions on the raw material are however sufficient to illustrate the case. It is quite certain that the wool growers did not petition Congress to make these alterations. Evidently they had been caught napping. They were herding their flocks in the distant States and Territories when the raid was being made upon them. It may be assumed that Australia was not able to effect this break in our industrial defenses unaided. There must have been allies and friends. It is not difficult to point who they were. They are in some cases manufacturers who desire to reduce the tariff on the raw material while keeping it up on the manufactured article. Ocean transportation must also have had a finger in the pie.

But it was after all a short-sighted proceeding. It could not have been reasonably expected that the wool growers would not find out how they were injured. They constitute a large and influential body of men, who are likely to make their power felt in politics. Raids of this description may be described as a peaceful warfare which differs only from the other kind in that life is not sacrificed. But the pillage is quite as severe and general.

TWINS IN TROUBLE.

They Get Into a Bad Tangle With One Oregon Girl.

PORTLAND, November 3.—A remarkable story comes to light from St. Helen, which is well vouched for. About six months ago twin brothers—Alfred and Henry Grove—arrived from Kansas and settled near St. Helen. There was a very strong resemblance between them, in fact so strong that intimate friends could scarcely tell them one from the other. Henry was married, but his wife was living in Kansas. He soon made the acquaintance of the family of John Avery, living near, including their daughter, Lottie Avery, aged 19. One night about five weeks ago in jest he asked her to become his wife and to his utter surprise she accepted, informing her mother immediately. The mother in a practical way broached the subject of the date of marriage, etc., and before Grove could recover from his surprise the details had been arranged. He immediately went to his brother Alfred, told the story and asked for advice. Alfred volunteered to personate the brother and stand for him. The ceremony took place October 21st, the couple remaining at the home of the bride's parents. Alfred fell in love with the girl and a week after the marriage told of the deception. In her indignation she ordered him from the house. She then informed her parents and the father started after his son-in-law with a shotgun and has followed Alfred to this city, where he is supposed to have fled.
